A LITTLE BIT OF TOWN AND COUNTRY!

Walking into Town and Country Market was a breath of fresh air on a very warm summer day.

It was bright and open and there were so many amazing local producer and vendor products on display (We were thrilled to see some of our Free Directory members' products on the shelves!).

We had a great time chatting with the staff and taking part in some of the free samples of local produce (Which were incredible!).

Now, any time we've heard about Town and Country Market we've heard about a legendary cold treat they offer called banana whip; frozen banana and your choice of vanilla, strawberry, or chocolate, sweetened with dates. Our only regret in getting the banana whip was not ordering a size bigger! It was absolutely delicious and the perfect way to top off the hot summer afternoon.

You can feel the love and care they put into connecting the community with local farmers, producers, and makers. One of our favorite experiences there was seeing and reading the signs about all the local hands that went into the selection of goods and produce on the shelves. They truly make shopping local and healthy easier.

Be sure to check out Town and Country Market the next time you're over in the Boise area! And keep an eye out on their social media for updates on vendors and products!

Find the market at 12624 W Fairview Ave in Boise or at their website TownAndCountryMarket.org
Also be sure to follow them on Facebook and Instagram!

A3 Catering Caribbean

What started as a hobby eventually became a dream come true for Lysvette Henderson, owner of A3 Catering Caribbean.

After years of catering for family and friends, Lysvette attended culinary school and officially launched her catering business in 2010.

She had purchased a food trailer with hopes of opening a food truck, but it wasn't until 2019 when a close friend asked her to cater a wedding with just four months' notice that everything came together.

The event was a success, A3 Catering Caribbean was born, and, as Lysvette says, "We just kept going."

Originally from Puerto Rico, Lysvette is passionate about bringing authentic Caribbean flavors to the Treasure Valley. "I wanted to bring the flavors of my island and other countries from that area," she says. Today, customers keep coming back for favorites like the Sweet Plantain Bowls and Empanadas.

The family-owned business is named after Lysvette's three daughters; Andreina, Alexandre, and Anavett, making A3 Catering Caribbean a true family affair.

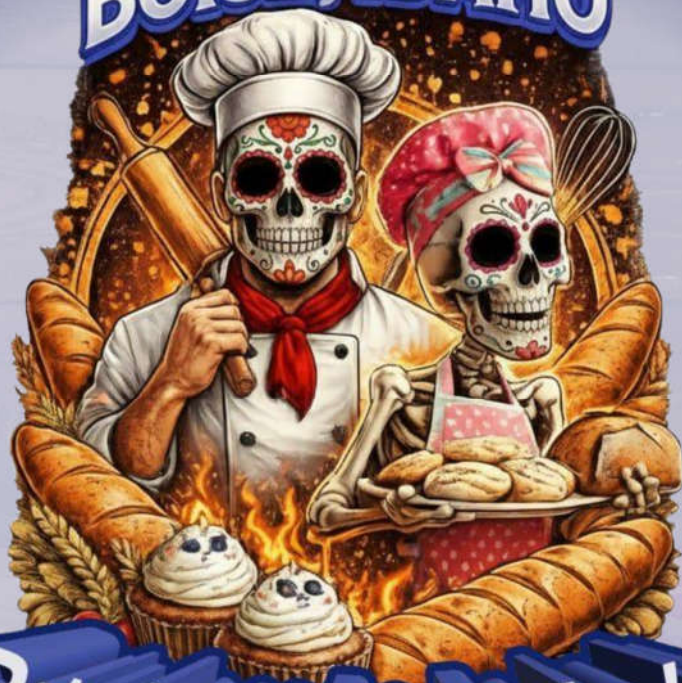

For Lysvette, the best part of owning the food truck is sharing the flavors of the Caribbean and meeting new people. Looking ahead, she plans to keep doing what she loves, traveling throughout the Treasure Valley with her family and serving authentic island cuisine.

If you're visiting A3 Catering Caribbean for the first time, be sure to try one of Lysvette's favorites: the Roasted Pork Sweet Bowl or the Picadillo.

Valley Gnomes & Gifts

ALL PHOTOS CREDIT: VALLEY GNOMES & GIFTS

For Marian Priegel, it all started during the holiday season of 2020 while her family was living in Snoqualmie, Washington.

Marian had stepped away from her corporate career to raise her four children. As they grew older, she began wondering what the next season of life might hold.

"As a woman of faith in Jesus, I prayed about what was next for us, I knew I didn't want to return to corporate life, and my husband and I had talked about possibly owning a business."

Then, one November day, Marian's daughter pulled out the family craft bin.

Marian found some upcycled sweaters and decided to create nine handmade gnomes to use as holiday decorations.

She posted a few pictures on social media for friends and family, never expecting what would happen next. Marian sold 200 gnomes in her first month and another 200 the following month.

The response was overwhelming.

Sometimes the best businesses begin with a detailed plan. Other times, they begin with a craft bin, a little creativity, and a whole lot of faith.

Before long, customers began requesting gnomes based on different themes, careers, hobbies, sports teams, and special occasions.

At first, we thought it might only be a seasonal business," she said. "But it has grown into a year-round business with unlimited themes. It has been such a gift."

After moving to Idaho, Marian chose the name Valley Gnomes & Gifts as a reflection of her love for living in the Treasure Valley.

Using her own designs and patterns, Marian handcrafts decorative gnomes for every season.

Each one is created from a combination of new and upcycled fabrics, materials, and textiles. While her Treebeard gnomes are especially popular, customers also love her sports team, career, and hobby-themed creations.

What truly makes Marian's work special, however, is the way people connect with each gnome.

"I love giving people a reason to smile through my creativity," she said. "I put a lot of love and care into the quality and craftsmanship."

"It is such a blast going from event to event, meeting and talking with people from all over," she said. "The Treasure Valley is a pretty special place, and the people here are what make it that way."

"I am grateful to live here, and I am proud to call the Treasure Valley home."

As Valley Gnomes & Gifts continues to grow, Marian is preparing for the business's next big step: online sales. She hopes to launch a website within the coming year.

After turning a simple holiday craft into a thriving creative business, Marian has learned an important lesson she hopes others will remember:

"Love what you do, and you'll never need to retire."

Idaho Custom Woodwork

IdahoCustomWoodWork.com

For Kevin Moreno, owner of Idaho Custom WoodWork in Boise, building a successful business comes down to craftsmanship, hard work, and taking things one day at a time.

With more than 35 years of professional experience, Kevin operates a custom furniture, repair, and restoration shop specializing in everything from everyday furniture repairs to complete antique restorations.

He also builds custom indoor and outdoor furniture in farmhouse, modern, and other personalized styles.

Every project begins with the customer's individual needs. Kevin works closely with each person to understand what they are looking for, whether that means repairing a treasured family piece, restoring an antique, or building something completely new.

His goal is always to provide quality workmanship that is beautiful, durable, and made to last.

"We give every customer personalized attention and work hard to make sure their individual needs are fulfilled to their absolute satisfaction," Kevin shared.

That dedication to quality has earned Idaho Custom WoodWork recognition as Best Furniture Maker and Restoration Company for 2024, 2025, and 2026 by Business Rate.

Although Kevin has decades of experience behind him, he has learned that owning a business still requires showing up each morning ready to work.

"Wake up early, punch in, and put in the work," Kevin said. "And you'll probably be punching out late!"

Kevin believes in taking business one day at a time, staying focused on the work in front of him, and continuing to move forward—even when the days are long.

Looking ahead, Kevin hopes to expand Idaho Custom WoodWork by adding a CNC machine. The new equipment would allow him to take on even more creative custom projects, including making custom guitars and other one-of-a-kind wood pieces.

With decades of experience, a strong work ethic, and exciting ideas for the future, Kevin continues to build, repair, and restore pieces that customers can enjoy for years to come.

PLACES TO BE... PLACES TO SEE...

Camel's Back Park Trailhead

(Easy to Moderate)

Features a steep, iconic sandy hill climb that rewards hikers with a panoramic view of the Boise downtown skyline and the tree-lined North End neighborhood below.

Follow North 8th Street, then turn left onto West Heron Street. The park parking lot will appear immediately on your right. The iconic sandy foothill trails begin directly at the edge of the lot.

Table Rock Trailhead

(Moderate)

Offers a historic and dramatic ridgeline climb starting from the Old Idaho Penitentiary that leads directly to a massive, illuminated steel cross overlooking the entire Treasure Valley.

The Old Penitentiary/Table Rock Trailhead is next to the old prison parking lot in the East End of Boise.

Hours: Open daily from sunrise to sunset (the parking lot gate locks at sundown).

Freddy's Stack Rock Trailhead

(Strenuous)

Immerses hikers in a dense, shaded pine forest that culminates in a spectacular close-up view of a massive, 70-foot granite rock tower protruding from the mountainside.

Follow Bogus Basin Road for roughly 13 miles the marked gravel parking lot for Freddy's Stack Rock Trailhead will be on your left.
